AND TWICKENHAM MES-SA

E BARGE."

tings in a Film.

gen's films to the crash is adaptation of success, which t summer. It t part as broad popular if only acterisation of e skipper, Capbe more deof a refined acpropisms. of this film is re are only two he rest having ors. The shots most invigoratly glimpses of in Surrey, and utiful river seteybridge.

musing charac-rgaret Ruther-th whom the flirtation; Marle landlady of as her diminu-and George onald Shiner's is delicious. naval lieuten-neet his lady erial, and Judy 10 runs away d takes refuge out look charm-lty in doing. ios.

enham Studios shortly, weeks, when making films Mr. Maxwell. e is to pro-for the next nd the Barge". Hagen's old ed, they will ll's renting or-year-old Nor-istant director ted his second at Cricklelutcher's Film is a troubled who eventually path of rectisuch popular of Mourne," om Ireland?" ose endearing oduced. The inctly modern, can broadcastof a big Lonare Kathleen Dorothy Dare, dlow, Talbot dlow, prother. E.B.

PARTY.

perative Guild work at their Albany Hotel

by Mrs. E. A. seen that the activity with cational, and ell supported. give addresses, kill, who gave international xplained what l, who dealt lic health to spoke on peace

TO PRESERVE ANCIENT TWICKENHAM.

York House Society and the Riverside.

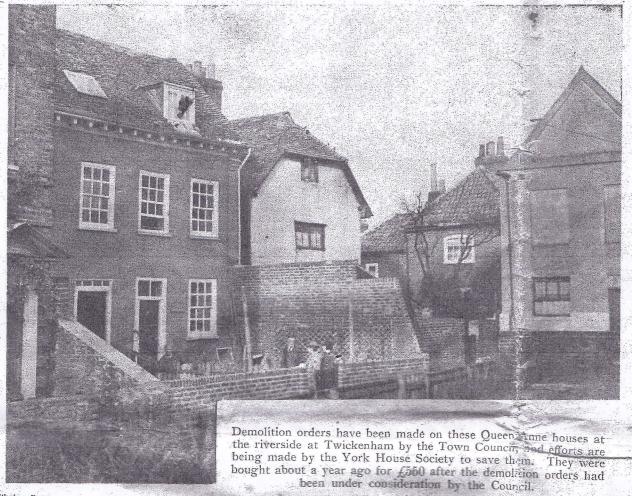

Photo: Dann.

diate local importance were discussed at a meeting of the York House Society, held on Monday evening at Ferryside, by permission of Mr. N. P. Viner-Bredy. The possible extension of the Ham gravel pits on the other side of the river, the preservation of riverside land, and the fate of the fine poplars on the Twickenham slope of Richmond Bridge. mond Bridge.

The meeting was placed in possession of important private information in regard to riverside developments at the Embankment and on the Surrey bank near Twickenham Ferry, and heard with great pleasure of steps being taken by county and local authorities to prevent under the encroachments; notably in connection with the gravel pits, against the poise of the theory was pits, against the noise of with there were some complaints. It was indicated that preservation of riverside amendies had been agreed upon, although it would be an expensive matter for the Richmond Corporation, and the view was expessed that it was more than ever necessive that Richmond and Twickenham should act in close co-operation.

Old Twickenham.

Attention was directed to a recent sale of property on the Embankment which fol-

ONE of the last remaining pieces of ancient Twickenham is in danger of extinction. This, and other topics of immediate local importance were discussed at a loc he said, was oak-panelled, and had a beau-tiful staircase with a spiral banister. In the discussion it was revealed that a Council committee that evening had postponed action on the matter for six months. There would be questions of the depth of the site if flats were proposed, and on the other hand, if an attempt were made to modernise the houses, it might be necessary to destroy the things which made them so desirable.

It was agreed that the York House Society should make a public protest in the hope that this quaint corner of old Twickenham, the last remaining between Teddington and Isleworth should be preserved from destruc-tion. It is intended to seek the aid of the tion. It is intended to seek the aid of the London Society.

It is feared that the widening process at Richmond Bridge entails the destruction of the poplar trees at the drawdock, which form so fine a setting for the ancient structure in the summer months.

THE SOCIETY'S PROTEST. Action to be Taken to Prevent Spoliation of Waterfront.

of property on the Embanka ent which fol. Mr. Alfred Featherstonhaugh, I.S.O., lowed the issue of certain demolition orders hon, secretary of York House Society,

At a committee meeting of the York House Society, held on Monday last, it was learnt with amazement, not to say consternation, that one of the few remaining bits of beautiful old Twickenham is threatened with dethe threat is to a group of the old cottages and bases on one old true waterfront. The threat is to a group of the old cottages and bases on one old true waterfront. These it appears, have been or are to be, the subject of emolition orders. They have been or whole, and it is believed that there is a rebrilding—subjy in the form of the district of flats.

The true was know only to well the dismat charges one graches have seen in this generates. It is perhaps true to say that, taking as witch from the tree to hammers and old and deligning bits certainty as with the form the tree and are unchanged. They are our old waterfront and Singual-on-the form.

Author in this part of the Thames Valley sides of the river have been, and are sides of the river have been, and are with the result that we can boast has is unique in it preservation. All is more as Thomson say. Our tradition is, it is high one, and wrely Twickenham says we changes on the old waterfront with a landiced eve.

The Yest to be Society is adeavouring to obtain preservationally a rice with the result and cottain preservation orders made, or to be made as a rice with the grant of all other bodies in did due a mirrested.

TU PRESERVE BEAUTY.

their work was co-ordinated. Some local authorities exercised the powers entrusted to them by Parliament, but some did not, and some would not. Advisory panels of architects were available all over the copu.

their work was co-ordinated. Some local authorities exercised the powers entrusted the London ing works something and some would not. Advisory panels of architects were available all over the copu.